A ready-to-post scam alert for your members, every Monday.

Each week we pick a scam that is hitting members now, check every fact against a government or primary source, and write it up in the formats your team already posts: social, newsletter, website and branch. You add your logo and phone number, run it past compliance, and publish.

What arrives each Monday

- A 60-second brief for marketing and front-line staff: what the scam is, how it works, why members fall for it.
- A social post for Facebook, Instagram and LinkedIn.
- A newsletter or email blurb with a headline.
- A website alert: a one-line banner and a short alert page.
- Talking points for tellers and the call center.
- A feed graphic in your colors, with your logo and phone number.
- Sources for every claim, linked, so compliance review is quick.

From Kit #1, "The fake fraud alert". In the FTC's 2024 data, fake fraud alerts were among the most reported scam texts.

PILOT

Free · 2 kits

Two Monday kits, no card and no contract. If they don't earn a place in your posting schedule, you owe nothing.

STANDARD

$149 / month

Every weekly kit, branded graphic included. Month to month, cancel any time.

PLUS

$349 / month

Everything in Standard, plus two 30 to 45 second vertical videos a month with your logo, for Reels, TikTok, Shorts and lobby screens.

What we never do

- We never see or handle member data. You receive content and post it yourself.
- No ads, affiliate links or product pitches inside a kit.
- No fear tactics. Calm, specific advice members can act on.

Who writes it

- Tutela Digitalis, an independent scam-education publisher: 120+ source-checked guides and a public corrections log.
- Bing Webmaster Tools counted 31,092 citations of our pages in Microsoft Copilot and partner AI answers, 21 May to 3 Nov 2026.
- 18 short scam-awareness videos published since September on Instagram and TikTok, @tuteladigitalis.
